Break the Cycle:

How Can We Support Children & Teens in Breaking the Cycle of Unhealthy Relationships?

Friday, Feb. 16th - 11am - 12pm

Guest Speakers

Mary McKenna

Mary McKenna previously worked at TPLV as the Child Advocacy Director for close to three years. In 2021, she left after having her first child.

Three years and another child later, she is back as an intern for the Child Advocacy Program as she is currently pursuing her MSW through Marywood University.

Geraldine Infante

Geraldine Infante has been at TPLV for three years, as a Child and Teen Advocate. She is currently studying to become a social worker.

She started the group called "I Am Her" to empower females with tools for healthy relationships with oneself and others. She enjoys continuously learning about topics on how trauma affects the wiring of the brain, attachment styles, and the effects of domestic and intimate partner abuse on the body and mind.
